Plan Open House At School for Practical Nurses

The school for the training of practical nurses, being held in rooms in the vocational and physical educational building of the Harrisburg Township high school is now in its second month and all phases of training are progressing according to schedule, it has been announced.

So that the public may have an opportunity to see the type of school being conducted and the facilities available, an open house will be held Sunday, Nov. 18, from 1:30 to 4:30 p. m., Mrs. Shirley Oshel, R.N., coordinator of nurses and classroom instructor, has announced.

During the open house all nurses will be in uniform and key personnel will be present to explain the program and the equipment and other facilities.

Recently the student nurses have heard lectures by Mrs. Marian Humm, R.N.A.; Mrs. Fernie Patton, R.N.; Mrs. Ethel Mathias, R.N. and Mrs. Geneva Altmeir, first aid instructor.

Following the lecture by Mrs. Humm of the value of the blood bank, student nurses from the Hardin-Pope county area, went to Rosiclare where the Bloodmobile was stationed and gave blood. The other students plan to give blood when the Bloodmobile visits their home communities.

Inquiries are being received daily, Mrs. Oshel states, from persons interested in enrolling in the next class and this interest, plus the support received from many organizations, indicates the nursing school will become a permanent part of the community.

Members of the class are Frances Walters, Golconda; Dorothy Ross, Golconda; Opal Glore, Rosiclare, Susie Riggs, Rosiclare; Dorothy Krikie, Sparks Hill;

Essie Adams, Galatia; Dorothy Roberts, Galatia; Lorene Bakarich, Eldorado; Bonnie Bennett, Raleigh; Sarah Prather, Carrier Mills;

Ruby Carnahan, Harrisburg; Sybil Hipes and Lorene Reeves, formerly of Carmi, now living in Harrisburg, and Maude Johnson, formerly of Cisne, who also has moved to Harrisburg since the school started.

Siamese Twin Girl Dies During Surgery

LOS ANGELES (UP)—One of the Currier Siamese twins died during surgery to separate the two baby girls, but her sister was still alive today though in critical condition.

The twins, Nancy Diane and Laura Lee Currier, were joined face-to-face from the neck to the abdomen and underwent surgery Friday at the UCLA Medical Center.

A hospital spokesman said Nancy Diane was the twin which survived the operation, but he would not venture a prediction on whether she would live long.

Prospects Good to Get Army Bridge at Equality

Will Be Released Upon Emergency Request by Stratton

Prospects are fine to get an emergency bridge across the Saline river at Equality, Gallatin County State's Attorney Charles Phillips reported today.

The bridge, a vital link with Equality, Harrisburg and Eldorado for the area to the south, was wrecked Oct. 18 when a semi-trailer with a gross load of about 60,000 pounds went through it, killing the driver, Buford Howard Connell of Sharon, Tenn.

Phillips, who has been working on the project of getting a bridge, said prospects are fine to get a Bailey bridge from the army. One that will fit the purpose has been located at Marion, Ohio, he said.

When Ed Pree, administrative assistant to Gov. William G. Stratton, spoke at Cave-in-Rock early this week, he was approached by Senator Glen O. Jones, Representative Gordon Kerr of Brookport and Phillips about getting Gov. Stratton to do something to get a bridge across the Saline.

Pree took the word to the governor, who told him he thought it was an emergency case, and yesterday Ed Rosenstone, Illinois Director of Public Works and Buildings, called Phillips to say he had located a Bailey bridge at Marion, Ohio, in an army depot.

Rosenstone told Phillips he was told the army would release the bridge to Illinois when Stratton declared it was needed in an emergency, and that the governor already had expressed his opinion that it was.

Right now the problem of transporting the huge bridge to Illinois is being studied and efforts are being made to get the army to do it.

Phillips explained that the Bailey bridge is a type used during World War II, that he had experience with them. Army tanks rolled across them easily in wartime, he said. They are made primarily of steel and the one located is long enough for the 163-foot span across the Saline river, he stated.

Two local youths were held in connection with auto thefts.

Held are Jerry Price and Jerry Brown, Chief of Police Ross Lane stated. They were picked up there with the auto of Claude Barger, taken from his home at Eddyville Thursday night.

Left at the Barger place was the auto of David L. Patterson, stolen from his home in Harrisburg the same evening.

Sheriff Jim Gilliam of Pope county told Chief Lane this morning that Barger had gone after his car.

Probers Report Epping Testified He Met Gangland Figures at Hodge Hotel

CHICAGO (UP)—U. S. Senate investigators announced that Edward A. Epping, imprisoned aide of former State Auditor Orville E. Hodge, testified last month that he met gangland figures at Hodge's plush Florida hotel.

Epping gave this testimony in a closed hearing to the Senate Banking and Currency Committee.

He told the committee he saw Joseph Costello at the Esquire Hotel, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., while he was staying there as the guest of the free-spending Hodge.

Hodge is now serving a 12-15 term in the penitentiary for looting the state treasury of 1½ million dollars.

Costello has been under investigation by federal agents for more than two years in connection with the Bobby Greenlease kidnap ransom.

He operates a fleet of taxis in St. Louis, Mo.

The committee also released secret testimony given by Edward Hintz, former president of the Southmoor Bank & Trust Co. who is also serving a prison term for his part in the Hodge affair.

He told the group of accepting invitations from Hodge for hunting and fishing trips with "eight or nine outstanding men in both the American and National leagues." He did not name the men.

Both Hintz and Epping refused to testify publicly during the hearings in Chicago last month. Committee Chairman Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) said at the time he would seek contempt of Congress citations against them.

OIL REPORT: Two Completions Dry, Abandoned

Taken from the Robertson Tri-State Oil Report

Two recent Saline county completions were dry and abandoned. They were the Warnick and Bennett Choisser-Cole No. 1, NE 1/4 SW 20-8s-7e (Eldorado), and Pa-co's J. W. Johnson No. 1-B, NE 1/4 SW NE, 1-9s-5e (Brushy).

Jack Inglis' Bert Keelin No. 1, NW 1/4 NE NE, 11-8s-5e, which is an operation adjacent to the Village of Galatia, was waiting on cement because of a squeeze in the Rosiclare, where 45 barrels of oil flowed in 30 minutes before channelling.

The Harper and McConnell E. Martin et al No. 1, NW 1/4 SW SE, 23-9s-7e (Cottage), had completed drilling but no information was available.

Secretary Dulles Enters Hospital

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles entered Walter Reed Hospital early today because of possible appendicitis, the State Department announced.

The department said the 68-year-old secretary is "resting comfortably."

The appendicitis diagnosis was not definite.

Dulles awoke early this morning suffering stomach pains. Two physicians were called to his home. After consultation, it was decided to take Dulles to Walter Reed Hospital. He arrived there at 6 a. m. CST.

Dulles has been working unusually long hours during the current Middle Eastern crisis. At President Eisenhower's direction, he flew to New York Thursday for the long night session of the United Nations General Assembly.

Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. was substituted for Dulles on President Eisenhower's calling list.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Hoover was coming over for discussions with the President on developments in the Middle East and central Europe.

Four Eldorado High School Boys Hurt in Truck Crash

Four Eldorado high school boys were injured when their vehicle left the road last night near Benton.

All four were taken to the Franklin hospital in Benton for treatment, then returned to their homes.

Hospital officials stated last night that Glendal Lovellette had a fractured leg and it was placed in a cast before he was returned to Eldorado. The other three—Eddie Rice, Danny McDaniels and David Etienne—suffered cuts and bruises and required stitches to close their wounds.

It was reported the four were riding in a pickup truck driven by young Etienne. Details of the accident were not available, but the truck left the highway and ran more than 50 feet into a field before coming to a stop.

An ambulance was called to take the youths to the Franklin hospital. The boys were en route to Benton to see the Eldorado-Benton football game when the accident occurred.

Security Council To Decide Action Against Soviets

Hungarian Premier
Appeals Twice
To Hammarskjold

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UP)—United Nations opposition to Soviet military intervention in Hungary multiplied today despite Soviet claims the rebellion there "against the people" had been crushed.

The Security Council called a session for 3 p. m. EST when it was expected to decide to send a U. N. commission into Hungary to investigate Soviet troop movements into the country. Another Soviet veto seemed likely.

Premier Imre Nagy of the civil war-torn country appealed twice to Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold for aid and said Soviet troops were pouring across the border in a threat to Hungary's new-found freedom.

Nagy asked Hammarskjold to have the Security Council instruct Russia to start negotiations immediately with Hungary for the withdrawal of the Red army and for Hungary's repudiation of the Kremlin's Warsaw Pact.

Soviet Ambassador Arkady A. Sobolev told an urgent session of the council Friday night the Kremlin had sent no fresh troops into Hungary and said "many reports, including statements by Mr. Nagy, are unfounded."

But the United States was preparing a resolution along the lines of a Cuban suggestion by Cuban Ambassador Emilio Nunez-Portuondo calling for a commission to supervise the withdrawal of Soviet troops and the holding of free elections.

If, as expected, Russia vetoes the move to send a commission into Hungary, the West was expected to ask that the Hungarian question be sent to the Assembly, possibly for consideration on Sunday.

Ike's Confidence is Reflected In Talks With Members of Staff

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today was so convinced of his reelection that he was talking over details of his second inauguration with members of his staff.

The President's confidence reflected the belief of some of his professional—and political—advisers that his victory at the polls is assured.

Mr. Eisenhower planned to stay at his desk today working on the fast-developing Middle East and Hungarian crises.

In the closing hours of the presidential campaign, he has left announcement of his policy stands to Vice President Richard M. Nixon and former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Nixon in a nationwide speech Friday night at Hershey, Pa., denounced Democratic attacks on administration foreign policy. Dewey will address the nation tonight.

Friends Describe Attitude

Friends of the Eisenhower family who have been in intimate touch with the President and his wife in the last few days said the Chief Executive was not "cocky."

However, the friends pointed out that after the President made properly modest demurrers about the outcome of the election, he began talking about his next four years in the White House and the myriad details of the inauguration.

There was active speculation within the flexible periphery of the Eisenhower official family about

Pre-Election Polls At Junior High And at Eldorado

Two pre-election polls—one conducted in Eldorado and another in Harrisburg—gave the two presidential candidates practically an even break.

At the Harrisburg Junior high school a mock election was held Friday Fred Armistead, principal announces, with Dwight Eisenhower receiving 200 votes and Adlai Stevenson 136.

Prior to the voting, instructions in the proper way to mark a ballot were given and as a result there was only one spoiled ballot.

At Eldorado Bill Scribner, operator of Draper's Store for Men, is conducting a poll and the vote Friday morning was 237 for Stevenson and 189 for Eisenhower.

The poll at Drapers has been going on for several days and will continue through Nov. 7.

Anyone is eligible to participate in the balloting, no purchases are necessary. The totals are posted daily.

Both Nations List Demands To End Conflict

Assemble Forces
For Move to Unblock Canal

LONDON (UP)—Britain and France rejected today a United Nations appeal for an end to the Middle East fighting. An immediate invasion of the Suez Canal Zone appeared certain.

However, British Defense Minister Anthony Head said at 7 a. m. CST that "no Anglo-French landings" had taken place yet in Egypt.

The French Defense Ministry said Anglo-French forces already were assembling for a move to "unblock" the Suez Canal which it said the Egyptians had "sabotaged" by the sinking of five ships.

Simultaneous announcements came from London and Paris that the conflict would go on until certain demands were met. The chief of these was Anglo-French occupation of the Suez Canal Zone.

Prime Minister Anthony Eden announced the decision in a tense House of Commons and there were cries from the labor opposition: "So the war goes on!"

Israeli Victorious

The victorious Israeli army was moving toward the canal zone cities of Port Said, Ismailia and Suez.

Israel reported new clashes with Fedayeen commandos along the border with Jordan during the night, and Iraq announced it was sending troops into Jordan to bolster its defenses against Israel.

Israel also reported the capture of the southern Sinai Desert town of Tor, on the Suez Gulf 150 miles below the city of Suez, in a move to prevent sea-borne Egyptian reinforcements from reaching the Suez.

The Anglo-French announcement taken after close consultation by leaders of the two countries, listed three conditions on which they would halt their action:

1. Both Israel and Egypt must agree to accept a United Nations police force to keep the peace. British and French forces presumably would be a part of this police force.

2. The United Nations keep its police forces in the canal zone until an overall Israeli-Egyptian peace settlement is reached—a move that would mean internationalization of the canal zone.

Occupation Final Aim

This would include agreements for keeping the Suez Canal open under the protection of the international police force.

3. Both Egypt and Israel agree to accept limited detachments of Anglo-French forces to be stationed between them until a U.N. police force is established.

That would mean immediate Anglo-French occupation of the canal zone whether the invasion was carried out or not.

Additional indications that invasion was imminent came from a spokesman for the French Defense Ministry in Paris.

He said Anglo-French forces were moving now to the tactical phase—the operational phase of "preparing the way to occupation of the canal."

The French spokesman's statement was the first official announcement the actual landing could come at any moment though both Britain and France gave strong hints Friday of immediate action.

In Remembrance

In loving memory of Charles McClusky, on his birthday, Nov. 4, and who passed away March 24, 1953:

When the evening shadows are falling and I am all alone,
My heart is breaking and wishing you could come back home.
They took the sparkle from his eyes, along with the vivid blue,
And placed a bright star in the skies to shine on me and you.

He was too pure on earth to stay,
So early meant for heaven.
Gone my angel I loved so dear,
Silent the voice I loved to hear.
Sad but true, I wonder why
The best are always the first to die.
He went away without farewell;
He said goodbye to none,
For heaven's gates were opened wide,
And a loving voice said, Come home.

Sadly missed by his mother, Mrs. John Gabel.

JAMES GUARD

PAUL DAVIS

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Mrs. Peavey Heffelfinger is A Lady Of Force And Conviction; It Isn't Pleasant To Tangle With The White House; Politicians Are Pushing The Too Hard And Concealing
Facts Of His Health.

ST. PAUL — The teachers of the Minnesota Education Association are a sedate and studious group, well removed from the political shot and shell of Washington. Imagine their surprise, therefore, and I suspect consternation when they were catapulted,
for reasons not of their doing,
right into the middle of a hot verbal exchange between Hagerty and Pearson.

It all started when they invited me, many months ago, to speak October 26, at their convention in St. Paul. And it came to a head as I got off the plane at the Minneapolis-St. Paul airport and walked right into a carefully laid trap.
Now that I look back on it I have to admire the skill of those who laid the trap, though I didn't admire it at the time.

It has been my private boast that I know how to handle my own colleagues of the press. "Cooperate," has been my formula "and they'll treat you right." I am revising that formula as of today.

As I got off the plane, my colleagues of the press shrewdly suggested that we go inside the airport lounge where it was quiet and hold a press conference regarding what Jim Hagerty had just said about me. Unsuspecting, and completely confident of my ability to "handle the press," I cooperated. Once inside the lounge
I was a little surprised to be confronted with a full dress array of TV cameras and microphones. I hadn't expected this but I still cooperated. By that time there was nothing else I could do.

My comrades-of-the-press then proceeded to give me the business, as I have sometimes given it to others, as to whether I left the Minneapolis airport without shaking hands with local bigwigs, whether his car did leave the line of procession and ahead of the others and how much of a mild relapse he had.

IRATE LADY
During the course of this so-called press conference I noticed a lady lurking in the background.
We were not introduced.

I suspected from the dagger
glint in her eyes that she was not playing on my team, and as I rose to bow myself away from my heckling comrades-of-the-press,
the lady moved into position. The TV cameramen knew what was coming and moved in with her.
She then proceeded to unsheathe her verbal claws and tear me into little pieces.

She was Elizabeth Heffelfinger, Republican national committee-woman, mother-in-law of Philip Willkie, whose father, a much revered late friend of mine, once ran for President of the United States. Mrs. Heffelfinger is the wife of F. Peavey Heffelfinger who heads one of the biggest grain companies in the northwest, is director of the Great Northern Railroad, the Northwestern National Bank, the Minneapolis Grain Exchange, the National Grain Trade Council, and who, as Republican finance chairman, raised millions for his party.

For a moment I thought of reminding Mrs. Heffelfinger that her husband was the man who persuaded President Eisenhower to remove the Truman administration's ban on rat droppings in wheat; with the result that for two years the American people had no government restriction whatsoever against this unwelcome addition to the American diet.

But I am never any good at arguing with a lady; besides Mrs.
Heffelfinger in other moments is both charming and delightful. So I put my tail between my legs and got out ungracefully but as quickly as possible.

HIDING FDR'S HEALTH
It is never pleasant to get into a hassle with the President of the United States or his aides. I have got into far more hassles with Democratic Presidents than Republican but as set forth in the current "Confessions of A. S. O. B." in the Saturday Evening Post I don't enjoy it. I joke about it and pretend to enjoy it, but I don't.

Nor is it pleasant to diagnose the health of a President. That was probably why some newsmen ducked discussing it when Roosevelt was running for reelection in 1944. As a result the world was plunged into a crisis in April 1945 just as the war was ending, and as the gravest problems of peace lay ahead.

Today the greatest prospects for a free world lie ahead; and today
the politicians around the White House are hiding the facts and pushing the President too hard—just as they hid the facts and pushed FDR too hard.

Some critics claim it is not fair to mention the President's health at all during the campaign.
However, even such a so-called
"house organ" as the Eisenhower administration as Time Magazine
has stated:

"A coronary occlusion such as Ike's reduces life expectancy by at least 30 percent. In forty percent of (Ileitis) cases like his there are lapses within five years."

I certainly concur that some news ought not to be published at this time. For instance, I would consider it unfair to publish General George F. Patton's secret diary, of which I have just obtained
one of the few copies in existence. This is history, and although it airs Patton's sometimes pungent views on Ike, it should and will wait, as far as I am concerned, until after the election for publication.

Health, however, is something
the public is entitled to know about, in every detail. And while a doctor has an obligation under the laws of many states not to reveal anything about his patient, a newsman has an obligation to the public to report it.

For instance, in connection with the "slight hemorrhage" of the eye I suffered, the press has an obligation to report that hemorrhages are a definite risk he has to take while under anti-coagulants. Anti-coagulants keep the blood thin and prevent bloodclotting. But the danger is that the blood becomes so thin that hemorrhages develop. Confetti in the eye does not usually cause a slight hemorrhage.

Doctors E. S. Nichol, W. C. Phillips and V. E. Jennis, writing in "The Medical Clinics of North America," March 1954, pages 399-412 state: "Hemorrhages must be accepted as a calculated risk
when embarking on long-term (anti-coagulant) therapy, and weighed against the benefits derived."

They state that out of 295 patients who had long-term anticoagulant therapy, one fourth developed mild to moderate hemorrhage at one time or another, including bleeding from the bladder, bowel, nose, under the skin
in the eyes, and one fatal hemorrhage into the brain.

The President himself has been quite frank, the men around him not so frank.

of Saline County

Elmer has no other job or business — he will devote his full time to this important office.

A Message To The Voters

From

Quentin Bowers

Republican

for

Circuit Clerk

This will acquaint the Voters of Saline County with the background and qualifications of QUENTIN BOWERS, candidate for re-election to the important office of CIRCUIT CLERK.

QUENTIN BOWERS was born at Eldorado, Illinois, in 1918, one of six children. His father was a coal miner employed at Dering mine when he died.

QUENTIN BOWERS entered the U. S. Army on September 16, 1943 and went overseas to the European Theater of Operations in February, 1944.

QUENTIN BOWERS, while serving in combat in Eastern France on October 25, 1944, was seriously wounded by shrapnel from a German mortar fire.

QUENTIN BOWERS received multiple wounds on his face, back, legs and arms. As a result of these wounds he was TOTALLY BLIND FOR A PERIOD OF TIME. After receiving treatment at various Army hospitals, his face was rebuilt by plastic surgery and he has slowly regained his eyesight.

On March 7, 1947, he was discharged from the Army hospitals, and he returned to his home in Saline County to begin his life anew. He operated a small store and restaurant in Eldorado until his election as CIRCUIT CLERK.

QUENTIN BOWERS and family attend the Baptist Church. He and his family now live at 201 S. Main, Harrisburg, Ill. He is a member of the American Legion, Disabled American Veterans of America, Veterans of Foreign Wars, being a Past Commander of Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion and Disabled American Veterans.

QUENTIN BOWERS' qualification for the office of CIRCUIT CLERK is attested by the efficient and courteous manner in which he has conducted this office during the past four years. During this period, this office, due to oil activities, has handled a far greater amount of business than was ever before handled during a similar period of time.

QUENTIN BOWERS will sincerely appreciate your vote.

Boy, 14, Receives Life Sentence for Killing Teacher

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (AP)—Grief-stricken teenager Billy Ray Prevatt was sentenced to life imprisonment Friday for the rifle murder of his Maryland Park Junior High School teacher last spring.

The 14-year-old boy, who had shown no emotion during the three-day trial, collapsed and was carried from the courtroom when the sentence was read. His sobs were audible outside the closed door of his cell.

The boy killed his teacher, Fraser K. Cameron, at his desk and wounded two other teachers with a .22 caliber rifle May 4 at the junior high school in Maryland Park, a suburb of Washington, D. C.

After the business session games were played and refreshments of sandwiches, pumpkin pie with whipped cream, were served to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fort, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hughes and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Harding.

Stevenson Plugs Own Plan For Middle East

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, plugging his own plan for peace in the Middle East, flew home from Detroit today for the windup of his Democratic campaign for president.

Between now and Election Day Tuesday, he will sandwich in a quick flight to the twin cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul for a breakfast rally Monday morning.

But except for that, his campaigning now will concentrate on two nationally televised speeches delivered from here. The first will be a huge rally at the Chicago Stadium tonight, preceded by a parade down Madison Street.

Stevenson's final appearance for votes will be a televised address on election eve.

One thing appeared certain—Stevenson planned to wage the finish of his campaign almost entirely on the "failures" of the Eisenhower administration in the Middle East.

Stevenson told an enthusiastic crowd of 7,500 at the Fox Theater in Detroit Friday night that "there are things a determined American government could do to stop the war and strike a blow for peace" in that troubled area.

Stevenson said the free nations must rebuild their alliance, and the United States should work with its friends both in Europe and elsewhere to forge a common policy for the Middle East.

The first point of such a policy should be that security is restored along the frontiers of Israel, Stevenson said.

Second, he said, the United States should "insist" that the passage of ships through the Suez Canal is an international matter, not to be interfered with by one nation.

HOLLYWOOD TODAY!

MOVIES - TV - RADIO
by Erskine Johnson

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Onstage, Offstage and Upstage: There's more than just measles in the family holding up Mario Lanza's hop to Rome for the Italian movie, "Be Mine Tonight." Clearances haven't come through from the German film producers who did the original picture with Jan Kiepura and Maria Eggerth. Mario's manager won't let him go to Rome until everything's signed, sealed and delivered. . . . Marlon Brando's gal pal, Josanne Berenger, auditioned for the "St. Joan" movie plum—but escaped the spotlight by using the name of Mariani. . . .

The greatest movie queen of them all blazed when British newspapers printed it in black ink that her age was 49. . . . Italian newspapers have come right out with the story that Gina Lollobrigida has a date with the stork. She's so far denied the story. . . .

Fox decided that CBS' Cole Porter spectacular, "You're the Top," was so good for Dorothy Dandridge that an involved transportation schedule was juggled so that Dorothy could be flown to the West Indies for "Island in the Sun" the day after the big show.

Nuns Save 284 Children in Blast

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP)—St. Thomas Orphans Home was rocked by a violent explosion here Friday, but 25 Roman Catholic nuns evacuated the 284 children in the building without injury.

Three men, two employees and a bystander, were injured.

Eighty-five of the children live in the home and the others were attending classes when the blast rocked the four-story brick structure at 2:20 p. m.

The nuns organized the children and the group filed out of the building. Firemen, who quickly controlled a small fire in a corridor, said the children were "standing out there just like a bunch of little soldiers" when the fire equipment arrived.

Fire department officials said the blast was apparently caused when a digging machine, working nearby, broke a natural gas line.

ITALIAN HEART-THROB Rosano Brazzi's wife has been described in print as a far from glamorous Mrs. Five-by-Five. "True," says a Hollywoodman just back from Munich, where he met Mrs. B. "But after five minutes you don't notice it. What a personality! She has more charm than most Hollywood glamor dolls."

Cameras are turning at the North Pole for a feature-length movie documentary of the American Polar Basin Expedition. Five-time Academy winner Peasley Bond is at the production reins.

WIDE WIDE WORLD'S visit to Hollywood was a wide, wide bore as far as I'm concerned. Can't Hollywood do anything without trying to see how many new films can be plugged?

This Is Hollywood, Mr. Jones: In the 1939 "Jesse James," John Carradine played Bob Ford, who killed the outlaw. In the new Fox remake, Carradine's the preacher who baptizes him!

Recommended in the dining-out dept.: The El Pescador in Costa Mesa. One of Forrest Smith's gayest spots.

NOT IN THE SCRIPT: JOAN COLLINS: "I don't like going out with a series of men. You have a series of fights in the car on the way home. It's too exhausting."

The pretty Joyce Taylor in MGM's "10,000 Bedrooms" is a Howard Hughes discovery. She was the stripper who sneezed whenever a draft hit her in RKO's "Beyond a Reasonable Doubt." . . . Vanessa Brown is sure that she knows where Elvis Presley's energy comes from. Flipping through the L.A. phone book, she came upon the Presley Vitamin Co.

THE WITNET: Joan Blondell plays the brandy-muddled aunt of Eleanor Parker in "Lizzie," and as the sloppy character, she wears a real rag-tag collection of clothes. "I just love your wardrobe," a visitor kidded her. "Dior?"

"No," snapped Joan. "Diorful."

The niteries are offering Helen Grayco bookings and hefty paychecks for the next year as a solo thrush, but Spike Jones decided that he can't do without his mate. She'll resume touring with his band as a result.

Soviet Roadblocks Halt Convoy of American Families

BUDAPEST (AP)—A convoy of wives and children of American diplomats left Budapest today in a second attempt to reach Vienna through Soviet roadblocks.

A Soviet ring of armor sealed the borders of Hungary in apparent preparation for another blood-bath.

The dependents of the U. S. legation personnel were ordered out of restless Budapest for safety's sake by new U. S. Minister James C. Wiles.

They were halted on their first attempt Friday when they ran into strong roadblocks by Soviet troops who ignored their American flags and ordered the convoy back to Budapest.

the future roles of current cabinet members.

The President is understood to plan no wholesale cleanout of the cabinet officers who were responsible for some of the toughest criticism aimed at the administration by the Democrats this year—Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson.

All Regarded High:

The President regards these three men as prime exponents of his theories of government and he will not ask one of them to give up a cabinet portfolio.

However, some of the President's associates, with an eye to 1960, have thought that after a year or two of a new administration — assuming Mr. Eisenhower is reelected — the cabinet members now regarded as liabilities might slowly slip back into private life.

Dewey's last minute front line appearance in the campaign resurrected old reports that the former New York governor might be in line for a cabinet job, particularly if Dulles were to resign after the election.

Two Killed When Wind Sweeps Helicopter Off Diamond Head

HONOLULU, T. H. (AP)—Two men were killed Friday when a powerful gust of wind swept their National Guard helicopter off the top of Diamond Head and sent it tumbling down the slope of the famed Honolulu landmark.

The victims were identified as Capt. Kenneth Chaney of Honolulu and Carleton Merrell of Vienna, Va., a civilian official of the National Guard who recently arrived from Washington, D. C., on an inspection trip.

In Memoriam
In loving memory of David Leon Shelton, who died July 27, 1956 and would have been 33 years old Nov. 3.

No stain was on his little heart, Sin had not entered there; And innocence slept sweetly on That pale white brow so fair. He was too pure for this cold earth. Too beautiful to stay. And so God's holy angel bore Our darling one away. Fondly loved and deeply mourned, Heart of my heart, I miss you so. Often, my darling, my tears will flow, Dimming your picture before my eyes, But never the one in my heart that lies. The stars seem dim as I whisper low: "My own darling boy, I miss you so!"

Sadly missed by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Shelton and his sisters. 109-1

In Memoriam
In loving memory of our mother, Mrs. Pearl Goodman, who passed away Nov. 3, 1944: What would I give to clasp her hand, Her happy face to see, To hear her voice and see her smile, That meant so much to me. Sadly missed by children and grandchildren. 109-1

Moving Together Toward a Common Goal

With the fowl of the air it is instinct! God has provided many of His simplest creatures with an innate sense of harmony, and of purpose.

But with man it is an ideal... still far from realization! Nations and individuals have usually sought their own ends, and little less than attack by a common enemy has ever brought them to united action.

Today, the challenge for harmony and brotherhood is stronger than ever. We know now that the very existence of civilization depends upon a peaceful world.

Our greatest hope is the Church, which throughout the ages, has unceasingly taught the need for moving together toward a common goal. And only the Church has pointed the Way toward that goal.

Join forces with the multitudes in every land who seek the highest goals. Worship with them the only Prince of Peace. And, believing with all Christians in the might of Right, work toward our God-promised destiny.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"The Suffering Servant"

Isaiah 53
By Dr. Archie E. Brown
GOLDEN TEXT: "But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed." (Isaiah 53:5)

INTRODUCTION — Right out of the heart of the Old Testament comes the scripture for this lesson. It tells of the Messiah, the Lamb of God, the Savior which was to come into the world and make himself a sacrifice for the sins of man.

The book of Isaiah is the gospel of the Old Testament. It is the heart of the Old Testament. Isaiah wrote these words under God's guidance seven hundred years before Christ was born. Yet, he describes with vivid language exactly how Jesus would become the divine sacrifice for the souls of men. Only God could be responsible for such accuracy.

I SERVANT AND SAVIOR (Isa. 52:13-15)

The Hebrews were willing to accept Jesus as a victorious Lord and Messiah. However, when they beheld him as a suffering servant, they rejected him. They could not conceive of their thinking the thought that their long-sought Messiah, could be a suffering Savior.

The whole country-side turned out a week before his crucifixion to strew palm leaves in his path and to praise him and to attempt to crown him king. Just one week later, many of these same people were crying for his crucifixion. Why, they could not accept a Savior who appeared to be going down in defeat. Yet, the very suffering he did was that their sins might be forgiven and their souls saved.

II "DESPISED AND REJECTED" (Isa. 53:1-3)

Please remember that this is Isaiah speaking these words hundreds of years before the events actually happened. Here we see Christ rejected by his own people. That is exactly what happened. It is no wonder that he was "a man of sorrows." He was bearing the "sin and grief of his people."

This Week at DIXON SPRINGS

(A round-up of the week's work, activities, and observations at the University of Illinois Dixon Springs Experiment Station near Robbs in southern Illinois, prepared by the Station's staff.)

Thin, Healthy Cattle Gain Rapidly
Successful cattle feeders know that cheapest gains can be made on pasture. They know that the biggest gains from pasture can be made with thin cattle. But they also know that there is a difference in the gains expected from merely thin cattle and from cattle that are thin because of unthriftiness or poor health. Knowing these things, successful cattle raisers will winter calves cheaply by providing feeds that give normal gains and that will keep the calves thrifty without fattening.

Calf Weaning Time at Station
Early in November more than 300 calves will be weaned from the Station herd. They will weigh about 400 pounds at about seven months of age and will grade good to choice as feeders. Our aim will be to winter these calves so that they will make the best use of our pastures next summer.

In looking over our feed supply, we find that we have grass hay, mixed hay, quality alfalfa and lespedeza hays. In addition, we have corn silage and sorghum silage. These are the feeds around which we will build our rations to provide normal, healthy gains of about one pound per head daily.

Wintering Rations

A full feed of 10 to 14 pounds of quality alfalfa, lespedeza, or a mixed hay of at least one-half legumes will do. Nothing else is needed. We could do the same job with either sorghum or corn silage fed at the rate of 30 pounds a day if we supplied supplements of protein and minerals. One pound of soybean meal and 0.1 pound of feeding-grade limestone daily would be enough.

If we had nothing but grass hay, we could do the job of wintering these calves for normal, healthy gains if the grass were properly supplemented with protein and minerals. Again, one pound of soybean meal and 0.1 pound of feeding-grade limestone would be necessary.

However, since we have both silage and hay, our best choice would be to feed both. Twenty pounds of corn or sorghum silage plus four pounds of quality legume hay would provide feed nutrients necessary for about one pound of average daily gain. If the hay were grass hay or a legume hay of poor quality, it would be wise to use one-half to one pound of protein supplements.

The above-listed rations are adequate for the normal, healthy, average calf. However, a light, unthrifty calf at weaning time may not be able to use a complete roughage ration; until the unthrifty condition is corrected, it would be wise to add three to five pounds of grain to the roughage rations.

Lastly, remember that winter fattening gains, or gains in excess of those needed for bone and muscle growth, are expensive and can be put on most economically with good pasture.

Delaware experiment station poultrymen have discovered that broiler rations containing a new drug will prevent heavy hens from producing the rich pigment that colors egg shells.

SIU Country Column

By Albert Meyer
Motorists just now are being advised in all forms of advertising, as well as by their regular garage man or filling station operator, to winterize the family automobile.

Agricultural engineers, such as Fred W. Roth of the Southern Illinois University School of Agriculture, points out that now is the time to get the farm tractor and other motor-driven farm machinery ready for winter storage or winter use. Using a little extra care at this season will preserve engine life and postpone the day when an overhaul job becomes necessary.

Roth says that many hours of engine use may be lost easily during the winter storage season because of rust and corrosion. Such damage, occurring chiefly on the valves, upper cylinders and bearings, may use as much of an engine's life as a whole season's work—particularly on such engines as those on combines and balers which receive only limited use during the year.

Here are suggested a few simple, easily-followed practices which will eliminate the possibility of nearly all internal rusting and corrosion of bearing surfaces.

Drain out the old crankcase oil and replace it with new oil of the proper weight for the engine. It is a good idea to replace the oil filter, too. Then run the motor at least five minutes to circulate the new oil to all parts of the engine.

This change will get out much of the dirt and corrosive material that has accumulated in the old oil. Next, remove the spark plugs and pour about three tablespoons of oil into each cylinder. Replace the plugs and crank the engine two revolutions to distribute this oil over the upper cylinder walls and the valves.

Finish this protection of the engine working parts by plugging the air intake pipe and the exhaust pipe to keep moisture from entering the engine.

The engine's storage battery needs to be checked every month or two while it remains unused for several months during the winter. The battery must be kept fully charged to prevent it from freezing and to keep the plates from becoming coated with sulfate which will shorten battery life. A good idea is to take the battery out of the machine and keep it where there is no danger of forgetting or neglecting its care.

Some farmers will want to use their tractor at times for various jobs during the winter. This will mean less problems of protection in storage but the machine will need the same care as a motor car. Both are expensive pieces of equipment which a farmer cannot afford to neglect in any way that will shorten its life or destroy its efficiency. Keep the tractor well lubricated and protect the cooling system against freezing. The machine should not be run without something in the cooling system, and if water is used there is danger that it will be allowed to freeze

Notes from Farm Adviser

By L. B. Kimmel

Fall seeding of alfalfa has been badly damaged by spotted aphids or a form of plant lice that have spread over southern Illinois this fall.

These insects are small with sucking mouth parts. They attach themselves close to the stem of the plant and draw out the sap and plant juices which causes the plant to dry up, lose leaves and die.

Some of the fields inspected after the rain Oct. 26 and 27 showed the young plants beaten to pieces with leaves scattered on the muddy ground. The leaves had a light gray or brown color as a result of the insect injury. The plants were brittle and easily torn to bits by rain drops.

This is the first time, to my knowledge, that this damage has happened on such a scale in this area. In fact, one field inspected a month ago looked wonderful, today very few plants can be found in the field.

The aphids can be controlled by spraying with malathion, 1-2 pound per acre, or use parathion, about same amount in sprayer. A sprayer that had weed killer used in it must be completely cleaned or the alfalfa would be destroyed by 24-D residue.

The average farmer won't see these aphids until the alfalfa starts to die which is too late to do much good with spraying.

WHEAT
Several fields of wheat have been inspected by the farm adviser checking on wheat stands, as much of the wheat was "planted in the dust" and there was little moisture at seeding time.

Some of the wheat came up early while most of the seed in some fields are only sprouting as of Oct. 30. These late germinations should complete a good stand of wheat in most cases. This uneven germination causes the farmer concern as he knows he must have a full stand of wheat for high yields next spring.

In most cases inspected, the wheat is definitely sprouting and should make the winter O. K. In the fall of 1955 and even through the winter, wheat in this area did not look promising for good yield, and cause expensive damage to the engine. Using a good antifreeze is recommended—either a permanent or an alcohol-base type. They are the only kinds that are satisfactory and safe to use. Other materials either are unsafe or harmful to the cooling system.

Well-Planned Farm Pond Offers Fun

"Why not have fun and relaxation while maintaining the area around your pond?" asks E. H. Regnier, University of Illinois rural recreation specialist.

With a little planning and practically no expense, your pond can be the showplace for your farm, and the recreation center of your farm and even the community, according to Regnier. A good entrance will help make it attractive. A game area, a barbecue pit, a few picnic tables and comfortable benches under some shade trees will make it a fine place to eat, visit and relax.

The pond itself will probably need little changing. If it has a shallow end, a little sand will make a small beach and excellent wading facilities. Perhaps neighborhood boat races could be held here.

A diving board at the deep end and a raft float will delight good swimmers. Old air-tight oil drums will make fine floats for the raft.

For the fisherman's enjoyment, stock the pond with fish obtained through the State Department of Conservation.

Regnier says the benefits of the pond can't be overlooked in the winter either. Skating, hockey and ice fishing are only a few of the possible winter-time activities. The hunter will enjoy the ducks, but what was the result—one of the best wheat yields on records—some 50 bushel yields.

4-H
The farm adviser is working on the achievement program to be held at Muddy school, Nov. 10 at 7:30 p. m. A check will be distributed to leaders to pay premiums to club members who exhibited at the county 4-H show.

Prices Received By Farmers Decline

SPRINGFIELD—The all commodity index of prices paid Illinois farmers fell 5 per cent during the month ended Oct. 15, the State-Federal Crop Reporting Service said today.

The crop service attributed much of the drop to "seasonal" decreases in corn and cattle prices. The Oct. 15 index stood at 223 per cent of the 1910-14 base.

Despite the October drop, the crop service said, the index still was about 5 per cent above its level at mid-October, 1955.

Corn showed the biggest price drop, as much as 33 cents a bushel during the month. Cattle prices also went down several cents per hundred.

The service said the all-crops index fell 30 points during the month, to 195, about 3 per cent above a year ago.

Prohibit Pasturing Soil Bank Acreage

Soil Bank acreages placed in the 1956 Soil Bank program are not to be harvested or grazed during the remainder of this calendar year. This warning was issued today by Mr. Herman Driskell of the Saline County ASC office.

With grain harvest practically completed and with crops reaching the dormant stage, farmers may have a tendency to grow careless and permit livestock to run on designated acreages. Unless such areas are cleaned, tilled or the vegetation has been thoroughly destroyed, such action will constitute a violation. This may require refund of payments already made plus an additional penalty.

"Under existing procedures we will continue to spot check farms from this standpoint and will investigate all reported violations," continued Mr. Driskell.

Any questions relative to the use of handling of designated acreages should be referred to the ASC office in the city hall, Harrisburg.

Locals' Victory Over Red Birds Pulls Team Out Of South 7 Cellar

Placement by Ronnie Vick Follows
Mickey Stone TD

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs won their first football game of the year last night when they nipped
the Red Birds at West Frankfort, 7 to 6, and they rejoiced after the game like they had won the conference title. However, the result pulled Harrisburg out of the South Seven cellar and dropped Frankfort into the lowest spot.

Ronnie Vick, who had not missed
an extra point attempt all year,
sent his seventh straight placement of the season high between the goal posts to give Harrisburg the margin of victory after Mickey Stone had raced four yards for the local tally.

Harrisburg was behind 6-0 at the time, having been scored against in the second quarter. The Frankfort lead held up until the fourth quarter, with 10 minutes left in the game.

Although Stone and Vick made

the points that won, there were other local heroes. Jack Simpson, tackle, broke through to block
Frankfort's extra point attempt.
In the closing minutes John Zeigler, fullback who looked good on several driving plays, pulled the ball game out of the fire when he took a forward pass out of a West Frankfort player's hands and ran with the interception far into Frankfort territory. Gary Aldridge recovered a fumbled punt and the locals went on to score. Lou Ray Williams, guard, and Bill Yates, end, played excellent defensive games.

During the contest West Frankfort made the yardage although its touchdown came on a break, but the locals came up with the big end of the score. Frankfort was able to gain well down the field to a point, where the local defense would stiffen every time.

This can be seen in the statistics which show that West Frankfort made 12 first downs to six for Harrisburg. Frankfort made 162 yards rushing and 18 passing for 180 scrimmage while the locals had a net 80 yards rushing and eight passing for 88 yards.

Red Birds Block Punt

Harrisburg tried seven passes, completed one, and had two intercepted. Frankfort tried nine, completed two and had one intercepted.
There were no long runs from scrimmage during the game by either team.

Frankfort after the opening kickoff moved to the H-8 but lost the ball on downs.

Early in the second quarter Harrisburg punted from its own 15
and the ball was blocked by Reginald Barrett, Frankfort recovering on the H-3. On the ensuing play Bennett crashed the three yards to score but Simpson block Neible's placekick attempt.

Harrisburg started its touchdown drive after Frankfort punted to the H-20, although they got a break
during the process. Zeigler ploughed 16 yards, Stone four and Zeigler
6 but the drive stalled and Harrisburg punted. But Frankfort fumbled the punt and Gary Aldridge recovered for the Bull Dogs on the WF-42.

Zeigler in four plays made 11
yards to the WF-31. Donald Biggs raced wide to the right for 10 yards to the 21 on the last play of the third quarter.

First play of the final period saw Mickey Stone race 11 yards to the 10. From there Zeigler smashed one yard, Biggs five and Stone raced fast and wide to his left to score the touchdown. Then Vick kicked the all-important extra point.

Play Benton Next

Frankfort then started a drive which put the Red Birds on the H-5 after pass interference was called against the locals. However Frankfort was penalized 15 back to the 20 on the following play for holding. Two plays moved the ball to the H-11, where Zeigler intercepted and ran to the WF-22. However, clipping was called on the WF-30 and Harrisburg got the ball back on the WF-45. Frankfort got one more series of downs with the ball but couldn't move.

Coach Lawrence Calufetti used
Bill Yates and Bud Logan at ends,
Ronnie Vick, Ray Hassett and Jack Simpson at tackles, Lou Williams and Gary Aldridge at guards, Allen Buchanan at center, Jim Cummins and Bob Clark at quarterback, Donald Biggs and Mickey Stone at halfbacks and John Zeigler and Eddie Price at fullback.

Next Saturday night the locals
meet the powerful Benton Rangers
at Taylor Field in another South
Seven contest.

Eldorado Falls From Unbeaten Ranks With 33-13 Loss to Benton Rangers

Opponents Strike
Fast, Build Up
20-0 Early Lead

Eldorado fell from the ranks of the unbeaten Friday night, losing to a powerful Benton team by a 33-13 score. The game was played on the winners' field.

Eldorado went into the game with seven consecutive victories for the season and had high hopes for a perfect year, but it just wasn't to be. Benton was 5-1-1 before
the game.

The first half was nightmarish
for Eldorado, as Benton struck hard and fast to build up an imposing 20-0 advantage halfway through the second quarter.

Then the Eagles came to life
and played on fairly even terms
the remainder of the game, but by that time it was too late.

Eagle Runners Stopped

Benton presented an array of hard running backs and a fast, terrific charging line. The starting ball carriers showed almost equally well—Jim Rhodes, Pete Ross, Larry Melvin and Don Mace all could run and the big line was led by Elvin Hewlett, an all-state tackle candidate.

Eldorado's running game was stopped almost dead and both touchdowns were scored via the air lanes.

Benton scored with four minutes remaining in the first period. After an exchange of punts, Benton started a TD drive from the 35 yard line. Four first and tens were ground out in the scoring drive down field and was capped by fullback Mace charging through center for the TD. Rhodes passed to end Mervin Spillman for the PAT.

Benton continued to dominate play and scored its second TD early in the second frame with Ross barreling into the end zone and Mace making the extra point.

Benton Recovers Fumble

On the second play from scrimmage following the kickoff Eldorado fumbled and the ball was recovered for Benton by Ross only 30 yards from play dirt. Five plays later Rhodes went into the end zone. The PAT was missed and with five minutes remaining to play in the half the home team was in front 20-0.

Eldorado got back in the game
just before the half, going 59 yards in five plays, completing three passes for the big gains. Justice hit Kinery for a 39-yard pass, found Kinery again for a 7 yard gain,
then passed to Woods for the TD.
Point try failed.

There were only 39 seconds left to play, but Benton scored again.
On the second play from scrimmage Ross apparently was caught behind the line of scrimmage, but brushed off two would-be tacklers, broke through the line, beautifully reversed his field and went 50 yards to score. Point try failed.
